FRENCH CABINET RESIGNS AFTER HERRIOT WALKS OUT

France Is Plunged Into A Welter of Ominous Uncertainty

POLICE, TROOPS READY

Break Up Every Group Attempting to Assemble Near Chamber of Deputies

PARIS, France, Nov. 8.—Pierre Etienne Flandin, former Minister of Finance, today accepted in principal, the task of forming a government to succeed that of Premier Gaston Doumergue, resigned. Etienne Flandin accepted after former Premier Pierre Laval and Fernando Buisson, President of the Chamber of Deputies, had declined the assignment. Flandin stated he would start consultation with party leaders immediately and report to President Lebrun this afternoon.

Exhausted by the strain of the last few days, Doumergue took to his bed immediately after returning home. He revealed to the press that a political plot to bring about the downfall of the government had been prepared for execution November 15th, a forestal dissolution of parliament. He said that was why he had insisted upon immediate granting of three months' credit by the Chamber of Deputies.

By William Parker

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
PARIS, Nov. 8.—(INS)—Plunging France into a welter of ominous uncertainty, the Cabinet resigned today after Edouard Herriot and his five radical colleagues walked out.

Police and troops that had been on alert all night immediately leaped into action and broke up every group that attempted to assemble in the vicinity of the Chamber of Deputies. The resignation had been delayed by heroic last-minute efforts of President Lebrun, who summoned Herriot to a conference in the hope the truce since the riots of last February might be prolonged.

Herriot told the President that the radicals would not tolerate Premier Doumergue's scheme for constitutional reform giving the premier additional power and his attempt to dodge the immediate budget issue, and that Doumergue adamantly refused to accept the compromise modifications offered by the radicals.

The radicals then handed in their portfolios to Doumergue, who went immediately to the President and resented the resignation of the entire cabinet.

"I refuse to head a minority government," the departing Premier said. People would accuse me of attempting a dictatorship."

Wayside Inn Near Yardley Is Demolished By Fire

YARDLEY, Nov. 8.—The Yardley Fire Co., No. 1, was summoned to a fire at the Wayside Inn, north of Yardley, at 4:30 yesterday morning, when a fire of unknown origin completely demolished the entire building and contents, before assistance could be rendered.

The property was owned by the Misses Elizabeth and Ida White, and was leased by Mrs. George Marriott, who for the past year has operated a restaurant. Mrs. Marriott was awakened by the howls of a dog, and arose to quiet the animal, finding that her inn was a mass of flames. Attempts were made by members of her household, residing about 50 feet from the fire, to remove personal property from the building, but the heat was so great and the smoke so dense it was impossible.

George Longhine, who resides nearby, was aroused by the cries for assistance and drove to Yardley, and the alarm was then given. The firemen pumped water from the Delaware Canal, through 1,000 feet of hose, for more than two hours. The destroyed buildings were covered by $2,000 insurance, while the contents were also covered by insurance. The value of the building was $3,000.

Small Town Scandal Is Revealed in Fine Film

A small town scandal, with all of its gossip, malicious comment, and petty persecution is revealed in "The Life of Vergie Winters," starring Ann Harding, which will be shown at the Grand Theatre tonight and tomorrow night.

The cause of the scandal is the tremendous romance of Vergie Winters, played by Miss Harding, and John Shadwell, portrayed by John Boles.

Vergie is the town milliner. Shadwell is the community "favorite son," with a brilliant political future. Prevented from marrying Vergie, he carries on an affair with her in defiance of conventions after they discover, after Shadwell has been wed to another girl, that they were tricked into their mating by Vergie's father.

The story covers an epochal span of twenty-two years to the present time—tracing the poignant romance through its many vicissitudes to what is said to be an intensely dramatic climax.

PERKASIE BOROUGH MAY BUY WATER PLANT

Representatives of Company Asked To Meet With Borough Council

REPORT ON FINANCES

PERKASIE, Nov. 8.—Having cancelled its debt on the municipally owned electric light department, Perkassie Borough Council has launched upon another project which may result in its taking over another business in this borough.

During a very brief session of Council the secretary was instructed to send a communication to the Perkassie Water Supply Company, suggesting that representatives of the company and members of Borough Council get together for the purpose of considering a proposition for the borough to purchase the water supply plant from the company. This meeting, it is expected, will be held in the near future when the proposition will be considered from all angles.

The meeting of Council was the shortest in 15 years and a greater portion of the time was devoted to the transaction of routine business.

Tax Collector Kramer reported that outstanding taxes from the 1934 duplicate total $5637.76.

Report was made by the chairman of the electric light department that gross sales of current during October amounted to $5696.50, that the expenditures were $4529.50 and the net earnings totaled $1167.

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS LIKELY TO BE HIGHER

Growers Expect To Receive From 28 to 29 Cents Per Pound

WILL SHIP THEM SOON

AMPHIBIAN TURKEYS

FORT COLLINS, Colo., Nov. 8.—(INS)—Robert Roemer, a rancher living near here, has the first flock of amphibian turkeys ever seen in this section.

Two of his turkey hens made their nests across the river from his ranch house, he declared. They flew back and forth across the stream each day to the ranch house to feed. When the little turkeys came along, they couldn't fly the entire distance. So they landed in the water and swam the remainder of the distance.

Now they swim across the river twice a day.

The contented gobble of fat turkeys along about Thanksgiving time will mean more money to growers throughout the Northwest this year, despite a curtailed production.

Herbert Byers, general manager of the Northwest Turkey Growers' association, told delegates to a meeting of market association executives in Salt Lake City that this year's shipments from Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, Washington, Oregon and Nevada would exceed the $1,000,000 realized in 1933.

Drouth and increased feed costs, he said, had cut the number of birds available for marketing this year. The same causes, he pointed out, had also sent the price of fat turkeys upward. Growers may expect 28 to 29 cents a pound this fall.

More than 150 wholesale dealers along the eastern seaboard buy regularly from the association to supply New York, Boston and Philadelphia hotels and restaurants.

Heavy shipments from this region will start about November 10th.

To these we offer our sincere thanks and in return we re-dedicate ourselves to fight unceasingly for the principles of Republicanism."

Taylor was defeated as Republican candidate for Secretary of Internal Affairs, but is still chairman of the board of the Dauphin County Commissioners. He was elected to succeed General Edward Martin as Republican State Chairman.

RIFLING ON ASSESSMENTS

Harrisburg, Nov. 8.—The State Secretary of Banking can make assessments against stocks of closed state banks only as may be necessary to pay the creditors and not up to the full par value of stockholders' shares, except where necessary, according to a ruling today by Judge Joseph Fox of the Dauphin County Court. Judge Fox's opinion, based on the double indemnity feature of the Act of 1876, applicable to closed state banks, ruled that the Secretary of Banking must first exhaust all other assets available before he can assess the stockholders to the full par value of closed bank stock holdings.

BUCKS COUNTY HAS ABSORBED BLIND PENSIONS

State Announces No New Applications Can Be Acted Upon

UNTIL JUNE 1, 1935

Bucks County and 26 other counties in the state have already absorbed practically their entire allocation for monthly pensions to the blind, and unless a vacancy on the present roll occurs will be unable to add any new pensioners to the payroll until redistributions are made for the next fiscal year starting June 1, 1935.

Allocations for the first year of the blind pension system were made to the counties on the basis of population percentages of an estimated amount to initiate the new program. After this first year, State Welfare Department officials will be able to allocate more definitely on the basis of need in each county.

Applicants eligible for the blind pension are put on the payroll in chronological order of their application. When the county has taken on sufficient pensioners to absorb its allocation subsequent applicants must be put on the waiting list until the reallocations are made or until a vacancy appears on the present roll.

In the case where a county does not have enough pensioners to absorb its entire allocation, the remaining sums return to the general blind pension fund at the end of the fiscal year to be reallocated with the new appropriation.

The following counties have absorbed their allocation to the point where no new names can be added to the payroll: Armstrong, Berks, Bucks, Cambria, Cameron, Chester, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Elk, Erie, Fulton, Indiana, Luzerne, Lycoming, Mercer, Montour, Perry, Schuylkill, Snyder, Somerset, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Wayne and Wyoming.

State Legislature To Be Divided Politically

By G. Everett Doying

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 8.—(INS)—A Legislature divided politically—the House Democratic and the Senate Republican—awaits Pennsylvania's first Democratic executive in four decades, Governor Elect George H. Earle, when he takes office in January.

This was assured today as a result of Tuesday's election in which Democratic candidates for legislative seats toppled Republican incumbents and secured candidates with utter disregard for political traditions to win strong numerical control of the lower chamber for the first time in almost 60 years.

With all districts accounted for, the party make-up of the 1935 General Assembly stood:

Democrats, 115 seats; Republicans, 90 seats; Socialists, two seats; Independent Citizen-Democratic, one seat.

Despite the fact that heavy inroads also were made by the Democrats into the Senate membership, that body will still be predominantly Republican for the coming session, although for the first time in years the G. O. P. two-thirds majority was no more. Including 22 Republican and three Democratic holdover members, unofficial returns produced a Senate lineup as follows:

Republican, 31 seats; Democrats, 19 seats.

Never before in modern Pennsylvania political history has the Democratic party held such odds as these in the legislative halls of the State Capitol.

4,103 GARMENTS ARE ASSEMBLED FOR THE GUILD EXHIBITION

Eleven Have Names On The Honor Roll; One Is 18-Months-Old Boy

Mrs. Clement B. Webster, of Frankford, is Speaker at Meeting

Elated over their 4,103 garments collected for their 20th annual exhibition, members of Bristol Branch of the Needlework Guild of America, assembled in annual session yesterday afternoon in the Community House. About the room, attractively piled on tables and placed upon long lines, were the numerous new articles of wearing apparel and household linen, ready to be sent to homes and to institutions for distribution among those in need.

Eleven names were on the honor roll yesterday, this number having secured over 100 articles. The list included: Mrs. Clifford L. Anderson, 407; Mrs. L. C. Spring, 200; Mrs. Fred Krings, 187; Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, 164; Mrs. James Lefferts, 156; Mrs. J. Byron Johnson, 108; Mrs. Griffith L. Williams, 106; Mrs. Joseph Carroll, 103; sewing department of Bristol Branch, 407; Junior Department of Bristol Branch, 587; "Billy" Gratz, 130. Little "Billy" Gratz, 18 months old, is the youngest member of the Junior Department, and is a director in that group. His contribution to the Juniors' articles, brought that total up to 717.

Mrs. Henry E. Ancker, Guild president, presided at yesterday's meeting, welcoming the members and friends to the exhibit. This is the 10th year in the presidency for Mrs. Ancker.

Following report of the secretary, Mrs. David O. Taylor, this officer also gave the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Griffith L. Williams.

Fine applause was given the 11 Juniors who then entered the room, each bearing a baby basket, in which were the articles contributed by these girls. Each of the young workers had a ribbon attached to her hair, in the Guild colors of blue and gold. Miss Evelyn Newman, president, gave the report of the year's activities for the Juniors, with Miss Janet Afferbach, secretary, also reporting.

Mrs. Ancker called attention to the Memorial Table on which had been placed 42 garments in memory of loved ones who have departed. She also announced that of the sewing committee's total, 101 were dresses. Appreciation was voiced by the president for the work of this committee.

The speaker of the afternoon was Mrs. Clement B. Webster, of Frankford, former national vice-president and president of the Frankford Branch of the Needlework Guild.

"It is the interest in something and enthusiasm for something that makes life worth-while," was one of Mrs. Webster's opening remarks. "It's not what we put into the Guild, but what we get out of it that counts," she added as she reminded of the joy given to each director in being able to increase their number of articles over the previous year.

Happiness was expressed by the visitor over the activities of the Juniors in Bristol. "No child is too young to take part in the Needlework Guild. . . . And there is no greater legacy we can leave our children than the love for good works," Mrs. Webster continued by informing of how she was able to increase number of garments for the Frankford Guild by instituting a Cradle Roll, with grandmothers' interest being elicited, and garments thus being given by them for the grandchildren. When the babies reach the age of six years they join the Junior Branch and continue with the work themselves.

"It's the work we do for others that keeps us young," was one of the pertinent remarks. And others: "Don't look on any of your welfare work as a charity." "I think the reason women are so much younger than in our grandmothers' time is because of their outside interests." "We should have respect for our gifts to the Guild. Do not give merely two wash-cloths if you can give two blankets."

Stories of the manner in which the Guild gifts have brought joy to the recipients were passed on to the assemblage by Mrs. Webster, one being about a handress, who with little means, was able to make two garments from eight cents worth of material. "We need vision to make this, a work of love, successful."

"Let us all be thankful to have the work to do and the strength to do it with. We have the time if we just occupy it in the proper way."

The 50th anniversary of the Needlework Guild of America, which will be observed next year, was spoken of. "We can help the national organization to celebrate this anniversary by helping to organize Guilds in states which do not have such." The speaker concluded by telling of some activities of the Frankford Branch.

Refreshments were served under direction of Mrs. Archibald Morris and other members of the social committee.

CONGESTION SLOWS BUSINESS

A survey indicates that shopkeepers are avoiding congested sections, with serious effect on retail business. Two thousand merchants, representing the entire country, agree in this.

Little is offered in the way of constructive remedies except decentralization, through the scattering of store and office buildings over wider areas of the establishment of branch stores away from congested centers.

Readily understandable is the hesitancy among merchants to resort to such a plan. Capital outlay would be tremendous and widespread losses would result. The ease of traffic regulation is a factor and the general public, by strictly traffic rules, which are easy for the shopper, benefit the shopkeeper.

Wider driveways and sidewalks are not feasible, because of the prohibitive cost, in sections already built up along narrow thoroughfares. In few cities and towns are there enough parallel routes to relieve congestion by distributing a number of streets. And there seems to be no attempt on the part of certain classes of traffic to ascertain for their own convenience the paths of least resistance.

Traffic elements are to be solved there must be a willingness on the part of all elements to cooperate and it need be, make sacrifices for the common good.

RESCUE

One more thrilling chapter of the sea has been written by Captain Fred, commander of the steamer Washington and author of many a daring exploit on the broad expanses of the Atlantic.

Following at it does the pitiful story of the Morro Castle, the rescue of five men from a wrecked plane by the seamen of the Washington is heartening stuff. The fliers had sought a contact with the Washington 600 miles at sea in order to outstrip competitors in obtaining films of the Marseille assasination. A surge of the ocean smashed their plane which was sinking and threatening to carry to the bottom the five men still clinging to it. Captain Fried ordered a lifeboat, already prepared for launching, to go to their aid. The waves were running high and it was necessary to carry a line by swimming to get the men off.

The officer in charge of the lifeboat, itself imperiled, called for volunteers. Every one of the crew at once offered to undertake the dangerous task, but before any choice could be made two sailors leaped into the sea and succeeded in getting a line to the plane and rescuing the fliers, one by one, just before the wreckage disappeared beneath the surface.

It was a fine piece of daring and seamanship, showing that there are still hundreds of officers and crews sailing the seas, ever ready to respond to the call of duty and to illustrate again the high tradition of humanity and courage and sacrifice at sea.

Nature is kind. Rich men take the soiled beauties and leave the best wives for the poor.

An Italian flyer flew 7½ miles a minute. If he keeps on he'll get there.

Wise-Cracking "Steno" And Bell-Hop In Show

Mitzi, the wise-cracking stenographer at Honeycomb Inn, is very capably played by Mrs. Hugh Ross of Morrisville. Her Southern accent and pleasing wit make her especially adaptable to this part.

Buttons, the head bellhop, is played by Wayne Fry. He has played many leading parts in Bristol High School shows of past years and that experience enables him to give a very accurate portrayal of this character. He constantly bobs up with Mitzi during the show and their wise-cracks will certainly result in a great deal of amusement to all who see them.

A show would not, in the fullest sense of the word, be complete without having society girls in it, so "Mabel and Anna," the bright lights of the younger set are played by Mary Joe McGee and Dorothy Dugan. They trip in and out during the show and much applause. They are truly the airy type that these parts demand.

General admission and reserved seat tickets may be procured at the United Drug Co., 125-127 Mill street, the Knights of Columbus Home or from any member of the cast.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full. I suggest you take a little of this. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your downcast-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels a day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Can't digest, up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. An often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Read the substitute. 25-cent bottles. © 1931 C. M. Co.

NEW TULIP FAMILIES DEVELOPED

New races of tulips seldom come into commerce because of the length of time required to develop such a strain. One to a generation is about all that can be accomplished, the last being the now famous and popular Darwins. A tulip requires six years to bloom from seed and growing from seed is the only means of originating new types. In six years only a single blooming bulb of a variety is developed and five more years are required for its propagation into sufficient stock to offer.

Recently there has been introduced in Europe two new tulip types, the Mendels and the Triumphs. The Mendels are the result of crossing the little extra early Duc von Thol tulips that come with the crocuses but are now seldom grown because of their small size, and the Darwins. The Triumphs originated from crosses of the single early class with the Darwins. The newcomers give early season tulips of Darwin form and with much longer stems than the old-time early types.

The Triumphs carry the single early season well over into that of the late tulips. Sir Daniel Hall, an English authority, who has recently written the most comprehensive book on the tulip in the English language, says that many of these two types might well be classed as Darwins, except for their earlier season of bloom. Thousands of the seedling tulips have been raised and named and they are also offered in mixtures.

So far as tried out in the United States, they are considered an excellent addition to the tulip races with a wide range of colors. They are of particular value for forcing indoors, giving earlier season Darwins for the cut flower trade. The Darwins take their time about being forced while the single early types are easily brought into bloom but because of their short stems are chiefly valuable as pot plants. In the new races, early tulips with good stems are now available for florist use.

There are a few new Darwins finding their way into general commerce. Important among these are new pure whites, a color lacking in the Darwin class previously, as the older whites were tinted.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS... a doctor's prescription... which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

But don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS... the old reliable relief that contain no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

PRIZE PHILANTHROPIST

LONDON—(INS)—A 71-year-old retired stockbroker, Edward Meyerstein, has suddenly leaped into fame as London's "Prince of Philanthropists."

Walking past Middlesex Hospital which has been engaged in a $6,000,000 rebuilding scheme, Meyerstein saw a poster with the inscription: "We need £85,675 more."

So he went in and bought the sign, paying for it the equivalent of $28,575.

After giving the hospital a check, Meyerstein had to borrow taxicab fare. He had forgotten to bring any cash with him.

HAS FATHER ARRESTED

PONTIAC, Ill.—(INS)—Charging his dad, Clinton B. McWhorter, a blacksmith, with disorderly conduct, Norman McWhorter had a warrant sworn out naming his father as a participant in a whoopee party. Because the girl in the case was of age, and because she and McWhorter were in the company of others, the charges were dismissed.

ELYRIA, O.—(INS)—Charley Crehore rides his horse to work every day, for he is one man who has not succumbed to the faster and more luxurious modes of travel. Crehore, president of a lumber company, can be seen each morning and night traversing the highways and city streets astride his prancing, five-gaited bay, Mountain Storm.

We wish in some way we could get every man who smokes a pipe to just try Granger —

... in a common-sense package—10c

The Wellman Process

for manufacturing pipe tobacco is different from any other process or method of manufacturing tobacco.

Again, the Wellman Process we believe gives more enjoyment to pipe smokers than any other manufacturing process now in use—

... it gives the tobacco an extra flavor and aroma
... it makes the tobacco act right in a pipe—burn slower and smoke cooler
... it makes the tobacco milder
... it leaves a clean, dry ash—no soggy residue or heel in the pipe bowl

The Wellman Process is used exclusively in the manufacture of Granger Rough Cut Pipe Tobacco.

Good Pie Crust Is Easily Made If

Directions Are Followed Carefully Time flies, doesn't it? We're nearing the end of another week, and Saturday, the busiest day of all, is looming upon us. From time to time, I've had letters come to me asking information about pies—fruit pies, pies with custard fillings—meringue pies, and of course the ever present difficulty some homemakers have in making good pie cru... I think, today, since we shall probably be getting into the mixing bowl, the flour bin, and the lard container, preparatory to Saturday's baking, we shall go into the business of how to make good pie crust. The two essential ingredients are the shortening and the flour. Pie crust may be shortened with different kinds of fat: lard gives an excellent result, making the crust very short and crumbly. The flour one uses plays a very important part in making crust. You should choose it wisely and with discretion. However, success really does depend upon three factors. One is your own confidence in your ability to make pastry; another is quick, light handling of the dough and the third is the proper baking.

I'll give you a recipe for a rich pie crust, which allows enough ingredients for a two crust pie.

Rich Pie Crust

2 1/2 cups flour
1 cup lard or other vegetable fat
1/2 teaspoonful salt
Ice water.

Blend sifted flour, salt and shortening together using silver knives or pastry blender, and add ice water gradually, using just enough to hold dough together.

Suppose, I give you also, a recipe for a hot water pie crust. The ingredients will make a one crust pie.

Hot Water Pie Crust

1 cup flour
1/4 cup lard or other shortening
1/2 teaspoonful baking powder
2 tablespoons boiling water
1/2 teaspoonful salt
Mix dry ingredients together and cut in shortening with silver knives or pastry blender, keeping the mixture flaky. Then add the boiling water and cool the mixture before rolling.

TACONY ACES BOOKED
TO PLAY ALL YORK ROSES

Joe Melman's Tacony Aces were booked out last Sunday in their game against All York Roses. However, the club is preparing to make its first invasion of the coal region on Sunday, when they engage the powerful Tamaqua Professionals.

It will be recalled that this same club held the famous Reading Keys to a scoreless tie in the early part of the season, so it looks like the Philadelphians will have their hands full in trying to chalk up their third victory of the year.

Manager Melman has cut his squad to 18 men and they will probably finish up the season with that number of men, unless an accident puts someone on the shelf.

Following their game against Tamaqua the Aces will visit Passaic on the 18th and try to stop the winning streak of the Passaic Red Devils, who won their sixth straight game last Sunday.

Gunner Corrigan has fully recovered from his injured ankle and in all probability will play a full game against the coal region club. Pete Chama and Matt Hutchison, the other two local boys from Bristol, are still on the regular squad and will see service this week-end.

A sectional game is in the making with the Holmesburg Club for Thanksgiving Day, and if that tilt is closed the local followers will get their first glimpse of the Tacony Aces since their opening game against Frankford Legion several months ago.

GIRLS ENTHUSED OVER
BOWLING MATCHES

On the Bristol alleys last night, four teams of Bristol girls rolled two matches with some very good scores. These matches are rolled every Wednesday evening and are open to all women and girls.

Takes Long Motor Trip;
Grew Wool 30 Years

FLINT, Mich., Nov. 8—If you had spent 30 of the best years of your life raising sheep hundreds of miles off the beaten paths of civilization on a ranch of 300,000 acres and all you saw in the way of living things for endless weeks were sheep and you finally sold the business what would you do?

Probably you would decide to go places and see people.

That's what Charles Percy Roberts of Perth, West Australia, a Flint visitor with his family for the last several days, has been doing. It is about six years ago since Mr. Roberts got fed up on wool growing, as they call it in Australia. He bought a new automobile and a trailer and started traveling. Since then he and his family have covered more than twice the distance around the world.

Mr. Roberts stopped off in Flint on the last leg of his latest tour to get the old bus—a 1929 Buick Silver Anniversary touring car model—overhauled and "dolloed up" a bit. He had 53,000 miles on the speedometer when he arrived.

Today he is hitting the trail again with Mrs. Roberts, their two children, Judith and Margaret, Mrs. Roberts' mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Russell and her sister, Helen Russell, 13. Their next stop is the World's Fair in Chicago.

The first jaunts on the long vacation trip of the Roberts family took them to every part of the Antipodes—through Australia, New Zealand and even Tasmania. And if you don't think that is the jumping-off place down on the under side of the world, have a look at the map.

On the latest sight-seeing trip, started last March, the Roberts family has covered 10,000 miles by land and as much more by water and still must journey thousands of miles to get back to Perth.

For the present trip on land, Mr. Roberts abandoned his old trailer and started out with the right-hand drive open model Buick and a camping outfit he built himself and calls a Caravan. The trailer has four berths, two lower and two upper, a cooking stove and places for the family wardrobe. Food is bought already cooked or for cooking as they choose. Most of their nights have been spent out in the open, in touring camps or farmers' yards along the way.

They went from Fremantle, West Australia, to Naples on an Italian liner last March and then toured Italy, Switzerland and France. From there they took the boat again for England, Mr. Roberts' native land, and made a complete tour of that country, Wales and Scotland.

They traveled 2,000 miles on the continent, 6,000 miles in the British Isles and then shipped from Plymouth for the United States where they had covered 2,000 miles before reaching Detroit.

Italy's roads, the travellers reported, are the best in Europe, a magnificent highway system having been developed under Il Duce. France likewise has excellent roads, concrete pavement having replaced macadam in most sections of the country. British roads are the poorest, not because they are not hard surfaced but because of a high crown and many curves that are banked the wrong way. The Australians pronounced the roads in America the best they have encountered on their trip.

Telfords Vote To Merge Into Unit

The Boy Scouts of Troop No. 1, Telford, followed by the two fire engines of the Telford Volunteer Fire Company. About 100 other marchers followed, after which came a number of private cars, all loaded with rejoicing citizens; and also a few trucks, which were decorated in honor of the occasion. The marchers carried a number of banners proclaiming the victory for consolidation.

Almost all of the borough officials and prominent business men of the two towns took part in the parade, and expressed the spirit of good fellowship with which the news of the consolidation victory was received.

At present, each borough supports a burgess, a town council, a school board, a water board, and several other similar organizations. Consolidation means that only one organization of each kind will be needed for the two boroughs, greatly reducing the cost of the local government and affecting a reduction in taxes.

For a number of years, both boroughs have been making use of the same water system, located in West Telford, but each has been supporting a seven-man water board. The boards met separately but there has never been the slightest sign of friction between them.

In addition, the Telford Chamber of Commerce has been a joint organization comprised of public-spirited merchants of both boroughs, who have always operated in perfect harmony for the common good of the boroughs.

Each borough has, of course, had its own grade school though neither has had a high school. The boroughs have had to pay tuition in large amounts for its students who continued their education at Souderton High School, but it is entirely probable that a joint consolidated high school may be built within a few years which will bring about a great saving in education costs.

The new consolidated borough will take the name of Telford. What is now Telford, lying on the Bucks county side of the line, will be Ward No. 1, and what is now West Telford, lying on Montgomery county side of the line, will be Ward No. 2. Each ward
